

BORDER COUNTY NOTES.

Friday, Nov. 14, 1902.

CARROLL.

Miss Lizzie Hamilton, who had been an invalid for some time, died at her home in Norborne Thursday.

While driving cattle on his farm, near DeWitt, Tuesday A. McCoy's pony fell with him and broke his leg below the knee.

The Trotter schoolhouse was destroyed by fire Wednesday evening. The fire is thought to have been of incendiary origin.

Burglars entered the Wilson grocery store at Sugartree Thursday night, blew open the safe and escaped with about $40.

Mrs. Nannie Walker of Sugartree township was sent to the hospital for the insane at St. Joseph last week by the county court.

Oscar Frederickson and family of Carrollton were poisoned Sunday by eating some canned goods, but nothing serious resulted.

Mrs. Nancy Winfrey, formerly of Carrollton, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. C. Haley, in Louisiana, Mo., Tuesday. She was 78 years old.

Night Policeman John Smith of Carrollton fell into a hole in front of the Root schoolhouse Friday night and strained one of his legs below the knee joint.

While putting up apple butter Friday, Mrs. C. D. Wagaman of Carrollton so badly burned her hand by pouring hot ceiling wax over the back of it that all the skin came off.

One evening last week while Mr. and Mrs. Willis Cullum of Sugartree were away from home their two little boys in some way set fire to and burned the icehouse, a straw stack, quite a lot of fence and some hogs that were penned up.

The Democrats of Carroll county elected their entire ticket except one man. Fred J. White, Democratic nominee for recorder, was defeated by Orange L. Darby, Republican nominee, by a margin of less than a hundred votes.

Two negro men and a negro woman got into a difficulty on the streets of Carrollton Sunday in which a gun played a prominent part. No one was hurt and no arrests were made as all the parties left when the gun made its appearance.

The Carrollton Democrat says: Wilbur Anderson, col., made a brutal assault upon Wm. Anderson, a young man from Norborne, Wednesday evening about 5 o'clock. Those who saw the affair say that the Norborne young man was standing near the curb of the sidewalk, saying nothing and that without any provocation, Wilbur stepped up to him and struck him in the head with a club, knocking him down. Wilbur ran with the officers after him. He took refuge in the negro pool-room, and when the officers forced the door open he escaped through a back window and is still at large. The injured man was taken to a doctor's office to have his wound dressed.

HOWARD.

The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Cuddy of near Glasgow died Sunday.

Theo. Evans of Roanoke has two badly mashed toes, the result of a heavy loaded wagon passing over them.

Earl Bradley of Fayette had a leg broken while playing football Saturday. The game was between the high school and Central college.

Mrs. Lucy Swacker of Glasgow celebrated her 91st birthday Sunday with a re-union and dinner. She has been a resident of Glasgow since 1842.

Vernon, the 9-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. W. Wayland, of Fayette died Friday from the effects of having run a sharp weed into his arm, which caused blood poisoning.

"Uncle" Robertson Moore of Glasgow, aged 91 years, fell on the steps of the courthouse in Fayette Monday afternoon and severely cut his head. We are glad to learn the wound is not serious.

The Armstrong Herald says: Two of Armstrong's young society gents became involved in a desperate battle of words Saturday night over the love of one of Armstrong's fairest young ladies, which came near resulting in a fistic encounter.

The case of the city of Glasgow vs. Dr. J. T. Bazan, which had been sent to the Kansas City court of appeals, has been reversed and remanded for new trial. The case will come up again at the November term of Howard circuit court.

A two-room tenant house belonging to J. J. Walkup of Armstrong and occupied by John Taylor, col., was destroyed by fire Thursday while Taylor and family were away from home. All the household effects and a dog, which was under the house, were also burned.

One negro in Glasgow let a brick, weighing eight pounds, fall a distance of eighteen feet and strike another negro, John Page, on the head, only producing a slight wound, not even knocking him down. The paper didn't say whether the brick was broken or not.

It is stated by the Glasgow Missourian that L. L. Williams, who lives north of Glasgow, raised 200 bushels of potatoes and ten barrels of corn, besides a good crop of weeds, on 11-2 acres of ground. No wonder land-buyers from other states are pouring into this state when such bounteous crops are raised.

An old woman, very poorly dressed, was found wandering aimlessly about on the streets in Glasgow last week by some charitably inclined citizens who became interested and inquired into her case. They found that she had been living in Mexico with a brother and that he had bought a ticket and put her on the train telling her he was sending her to an old woman's home. Her valise check showed that she had gone to Slater and from there to Glasgow. The good people of the latter place made up a purse, gave her a good supper and a little change and bought her a ticket back to Mexico.

MARRIAGES.

Steve Wood of Burton and Miss Cora Kirby of near Armstrong.

LINN.

James Stultzan, a venerable citizen of Shafter, is dead.

David J. Richards of near Bevier died Wednesday of asthma, aged 66 years. A wife, a son and a daughter survive him.

John R. Whities of near Macon has crossed the dark river. He was in his 72nd year at the time of his death. A wife and five children are left to mourn his death.

A protracted meeting was begun at the M. E. church, South, in Macon Sunday night. The pastor, Rev. R. F. Campbell, has called to his assistance Rev. C. L. Sealemond of St. Joseph.

Adam Gwinner died at his home, near Macon, Monday morning in his 79th year. Deceased was a native of Germany, but had lived in this country for about fifty years. He leaves a third wife and two children.

George Eller, col., aged 18, is in the county jail serving out a fine of $50 and costs for stealing a red lantern from the rear end of a Santa Fe freight train at La Plata. He acknowledged to having committed similar thefts at eight or nine different times.

During a drunken row in W. H. Weidit's saloon in Macon Wednesday evening, George Carpenter, a white man, shot a negro, Ed Holman, twice with a 32-calibre revolver. One shot struck Holman in the forehead and flattened out against the skull; the other bullet took effect in the cheekbone, near the outside corner of the right eye, and lodged in the roof of Holman's mouth. The wounded man's condition is not serious. Carpenter surrendered himself to Sheriff I. W. Gilstrap and is now in jail. He is 45 years old and has a family, but he and his wife have been separated for some time. Holman is 20 years old and unmarried. Carpenter claims that Holman struck him, and that he shot him in self defense.

MARRIAGES.

Marion Rhodes and Miss Dora Simpson, both of Hart.

Richard A. Jones and Miss Vella Williams, both of Ethel.

RANDOLPH.

Rev. McBee, pastor of the M. E. church, South, on Prairie Hill circuit, began a protracted meeting at Trinity church Monday.

John Friday of Clifton Hill is sick. His name may have something to do with his illness as Friday is generally regarded as unlucky.

The Wabash section hands at Moberly and most of the employees of the Wabash machine shops in that city have gone on a strike. The former demand an increase in their wages of from $1.35 to $1.50 a day and the latter an advance of from twenty-seven to thirty-two cts. an hour.

Wabash Freight Conductor H. F. Staats of Moberly slipped on the platform while alighting from his train at St. Charles Wednesday morning and fell beneath the wheels, seven cars passing over his prostrate body, killing him instantly. He was 32 years old and leaves a wife and two children.

Ed. Miller, col., is exercising on the city rockpile in Huntsville, serving out a fine of $10 and costs for throwing and striking Jim Pinson, another negro, on the head with a limestone rock. While Pinson and his wife were on their way to church, Miller kicked up a rumpus with Pinson, who succeeded in dodging several missiles, but finally a rock struck him on the head. The rock was broken to pieces, but only a small part of the covering of Pinson's cranium was rent in twain. Pinson was not even knocked down.

Irvin O. Stephens, the Moberly bartender who was stabbed the night of Oct. 3, died Friday from the effects of his injuries received at the hands of Will Campbell and Will Gaines, two young men living near Cairo. Gaines and Campbell were under a bond of $5,000, each, to answer the charge of assault with intent to kill, but they were both re-arrested after Stephens' death, and at their preliminary trial before Judge Polson of Moberly Wednesday they were held for murder and their bonds were placed at $8,000, each, which they gave.

Walter Walsh of Slater was accidentally shot and killed last Monday, two miles west of that place. He, in company with a boy named Baker, was out hunting and in attempting to climb into the buggy his gun was discharged, the load entering under his jaw, killing him instantly. He was 18 years old and a son of Conductor Walsh of the C. & A.

Last Wednesday morning about 2 o'clock burglars attempted to rob the Nelson bank, but were frightened away by Samuel Allin and Felin Appling, who slept over the bank. They were awakened by the burglars and went to a window and fired a couple of shots. The intruders fled, but soon returned in a buggy. Appling again fired in the air and they drove hurriedly away. The only damage done was the breaking of the time lock to the safe.

The team of Judge R. S. Richart of Napton became frightened at some lawn swings piled up on the streets of Marshall by hallo-een merry-makers last Saturday morning and ran away, throwing the judge out and seriously, though not fatally, injuring him. W. H. Clements, who was also in the buggy, was dragged quite a distance under the vehicle and was picked up unconscious after the horses were stopped by running into a hitching post. Both men were taken to the homes of friends and cared for until able to be sent home.
